It's time to come have fun in the magical mountains of Glen Arden!

Time and again we hear “can adults come to camp?” The answer is YES—without a doubt. It's now your turn to come to Glen Arden where listening to the waterfall at night, with the surrounding chorus of “peepers”, takes you to a place apart. So leave your worries behind and join us for WOW 2010. Imagine a couple of relaxing days with no cooking, cleaning, children, or work. Instead the days will be yours for the making. Swim, canoe, hike, explore your creative side or just sit and enjoy the mountains while lounging in a rocking chair listening to the rush of the waterfall.

During our camp for grown-up girls, mornings begin with a good cup of coffee, followed by pothole, flag raising, and a hearty mountain breakfast. Once you have filled your belly, there are plenty of activities geared to grown-up girls from which you can choose. Buffet lunches can be taken out for a picnic or shared inside the dining hall. Then work it off with more fun activities. In the evening, relax and enjoy cookouts, campfires, s'mores, singing and much more. All these activities are available, but you can do as you please while at Glen Arden. It's your time to let your soul sing and have fun.

Our camping experience for grown-up girls gets underway with registration, beginning at 4:00 p.m. on Monday, August 2nd. Whether you decide to fill your days with a bustle of activities or just kick back and smell the flowers, the days will fly by as you take a break from your usual routine. No matter how you choose to spend your days, when we say our goodbyes after lunch on Thursday, August 5th, you will feel rejuvenated from your time spent in the mountains.
